Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Now comes the saga of Sport the pup who gets scared at times.

Sport is the newly acquired outside dog, which, according to her size, is about half Boxer and half horse. Her feet are the size of a good size plate.

Yesterday evening late this loud shrieking is heard in the neighborhood.

Is it some child who has been hurt? No. Is it some wild animal which is frightened by the sights and sounds of a modern city? No. It is Sport.

What is Sport afraid of? An Eagle swooping down upon him or some huge animal which is threatening.

Weekend Will Bring Two Horse Shows

The third annual Calloway County Riding Club spring horse show will be held at the Murray-Calloway County Fairgrounds on Saturday, June 11.

There will be a local West Kentucky Horsemen's Association show on Sunday with the youth activity classes starting at 2:00 p.m. and the adult show starting at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday.

There will be all types of games on horseback, pleasure classes, and cutting. This promises to be one of the best evenings of family entertainment, a spokesman said.

On the following day, Sunday, June 12, there will be a registered quarter horse show at the same location. This will be one of the largest quarter horse shows held in the Midwest and South and will have exhibitors from twenty-five or thirty states.

Bill Warren, the show manager, said today that he has talked with several exhibitors who have promised to bring three former world champion barrel racing horses and several world champion halter horses and some top ten cutting horses.

This show starts at 12:30 on Sunday with the halter classes and ends on Sunday night with the cutting classes with some of the nation's top pleasure, reining, game and roping horses also.

Warren said that anyone who is interested in even curious about quarter horses should not miss this opportunity to see some of the top horses and riders in the nation here in Murray on this Saturday and Sunday.

Door-to-Door Evangelism Will Be Commonplace This Weekend

Bible study and door-to-door evangelism will become the commonplace in Murray, Friday through Sunday as about 500 Jehovah's Witnesses meet in the Murray High School.

Witnesses attending the meeting will call at every home in Murray to invite persons to attend the meetings in the Murray High School, according to Neil W. Lucas.

Lucas is presiding minister of the denomination's Murray congregation, which will host the meeting.

All members of the faith are ministers and few ministers receive any payment for their labors. Most support themselves by their own work, Lucas said.

"Each dedicated Witness must follow the footsteps of Jesus Christ and express his faith by preaching and teaching the good news of the Kingdom as Jesus and the Apostles did."

One of the big problems at the meeting will be feeding the delegates. This will be handled with a special kitchen unit set up and manned by volunteers at the school.

The delegates will both eat and attend Bible classes in the school.

Witnesses from 16 congregations from as far away as 170 miles will attend the meeting here.

J. A. Hinderer of Brooklyn, N.Y., will speak at 9 p.m. June 12 on "Does God Have Influence in This Twentieth Century?"

Hinderer is district supervisor for the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc., the international organization of the Witnesses.

The theme for the meeting, sponsored by the international society, is "Make Disciples of People of All the Nations."

Must Pay Fine, Costs, And Buy Sticker Too

An error occurred in a story yesterday concerning the fines for persons cited for not having a 1966 city automobile sticker.

The story should have said that a person may be fined from $5.00 to $20.00. In addition to this court costs are $4.50. After paying the fine and court costs a person still has to purchase the sticker for $5.00 with a 50¢ penalty for being late.

Dunn had just completed two special schools for clerk typists for eight weeks at Fort Dix, New Jersey. He graduated with the third highest average in the class and received an excellent rating from Fort Dix.

His wife had been with him at Fort Dix for the past six weeks and he thought he would receive a furlough to bring his wife back to Murray before he had to go overseas.

When his call for 24 hours later was received, the Dunes called their parents here in Murray who hurried for Fort Dix Friday afternoon and all returned Sunday with Mrs. Dunn, her car, and her belongings.

PE-2 Dunn is a graduate of Calloway County High School and attended Murray State for three years. His wife, a graduate of University High, attended Murray State for two years and was employed at Chuck's Music Center before going to Fort Dix. It May Take Court To Please Bauer

By CURT BLOCK
UPI Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles may go to court if that's what it takes to please Manager Hank Bauer.

The Baltimore pilot is extremely happy with his players who have won eight of their last 10 games and are making things plenty uncomfortable for first place Cleveland, only six percentage points ahead of the Birds.

What has Bauer screaming is an 11:59 p. m. local time curfew that caused suspension of the latter half of a two-night twelfth Wednesday night game it did last Saturday. The Orioles were pushed 14 innings in the opener before Camilo Cordero's double gave them a 6-5 win over Washington.

The Senators held a 3-4 advantage when play was halted after five innings of the second game. The game will be completed before tonight's regularly scheduled game.

"I think it's about time we quit scheduling these twelfth double headers," Bauer snapped after the abbreviated nightcap. "It ruins your pitching staff."

Two Choices

The Orioles have two avenues of approach, according to Frank Cashen, one of the club's vice presidents.

"We can either start an hour earlier at 5 p. m., but that wouldn't guarantee anything," Cashen explained, "or we can take legal action to get the curfew changed."

The curfew was one of the stipulations the Orioles had to agree to before the franchise could be shifted from St. Louis to Baltimore in 1954. The reason it's in the books is that Memorial Stadium is located in the residential section of the city and local legislators were seeking late night peace and quiet for inhabitants of the area.

In other American League games, which were all one-run contests, Cleveland edged New York 2-1; Detroit nipped Boston 5-1 in 11 innings; Kansas City topped Minnesota 5-4; and California blanked Chicago 1-0.

NL Results

St. Louis blanked Pittsburgh 11-5; Chicago clipped Los Angeles 8-1; Philadelphia flattened Cincinnati 10-6; Atlanta outlasted Boston 7-6; and Houston defeated San Francisco 6-1, in National League games.

Last Saturday night the curfew forced Baltimore into a "1 1/2 game" situation Sunday afternoon and they've been close on two other occasions. Bauer claims the delays make it difficult for him to plan any rotation for his hurlers.

Stu Miller got the victory in the 8 hour and 56 minute opener when Cordero, who hadn't appeared in a game since May 13, drove home Luis Aparicio, who had doubled with one out. The Orioles gave starter Steve Barber a 3-0 advantage in the second game but the Senators erased that with a five-run third.

Gary Bell became the first Cleveland pitcher to win five games but needed ninth inning relief help from southpaw Sam McDowell. Fred Whitfield scored the winning run in the fourth when Leon Wagner pounced into a double play. Second inning doubles by Max Alvis and Joe Acosta accounted for Boston reliever Don Wertz with the bases loaded in the 11th as the Tigers remained one game back of Cleveland. Rex Sox outfielder Jim Gosger drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Al Kaline did the same for Detroit. Tony Conigliaro slammed his 10th of the year with none on in the fourth.

California left-hander George Brunet celebrated his 31st birthday with a two-hit whitewash of Chicago for his third straight complete game triumph. Norm Siebern scored the game's only run in the seventh inning when he led off drawing a walk, was sacrificed to second, went to third on Bobby Knapp's single to center and can home with the unearned run when Tommie Agee bobbled the ball. Jack Lamabe gave up only four hits in seven innings and the run that was charged against him was the first he had allowed in the last 24 1/3 innings.

Winning pitcher Fred Talbot doubled home two Kansas City runs in the sixth inning and was lifted in the ninth when Minnesota tallied twice. Jack Aker came out of the bullpen to pick up a save and preserve Talbot's fourth win of the season.

Henry Aaron Newest Entry In Home Run Race, Season One Third Over, He And Roger Maris Running Head To Head

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Hank Aaron, the newest entry in baseball's home run derby, is running in some pretty hot company. With the race one third over, he is head-and-head with Roger Maris and four lengths ahead of Hack Wilson.

The 31-year-old Aaron, who entered the season with the highest batting average among active National League players, never has been regarded as a super slugger in the tradition of Ruth, Foxx and Williams etc. That is, until this year.

Aaron, a slim 176 pounds, has slugged 20 home runs to his first 55 games, an average that puts him dead even with Maris, whose 61 homers in 1961 is the all-time major league mark, and four games ahead of Wilson, who set the National League standard of 58 in 1950.

It's not that Aaron has ignored the home run ball in past years. His 418 career blows is the 10th best in baseball annals and he once led the N. L. in that department with personal highs of 44.

Occurred Before

But the Braves' rightfielder never had chased the ghost of Ruth through the summer prior to this year.

Aaron ripped two home runs, including the 10th grand slam of his career, Wednesday night and drove in six runs to lead Atlanta to a 7-4 victory over the New York Mets.

His pace sets him far in front of the pack in both the N. L. and A. L.

His nearest pursuers are teammate Joe Torre and Jim Ray Hart of the San Francisco Giants with 14 apiece. Maris who hit little more than an asterisk for his trouble, also ripped his 26th homer in his team's 55th game and Wilson required 59 games to reach that figure.

His six RBI's also boosted Aaron's total to 48, tops in the majors, and the four hits he collected off three New York pitchers boosted his once woeful batting average to a healthy .296.

Juan Marichal, who blazed a terrific early season pace by winning his first 10 games for the Giants, was routed by Houston 6-1, Chicago clubbed Los Angeles 8-1, the streaking Philadelphia Phillies drubbed Cincinnati 10-4 and St. Louis lashed Pittsburgh 11-5.

AL Action

Cleveland nipped New York 2-1, Baltimore edged Washington 6-5 in the 14th inning before their second game was halted by curfew with the Senators leading 5-4 at the end of five. Detroit outlasted Boston 5-4 in 11, Kansas City clipped Minnesota 5-4 and California blanked Chicago 1-0.

Mike Cuellar pitched a six-hitter for his fourth straight victory and John Bateman rapped a two-run single to climax a four-run sixth inning rally that sent Marichal down to his second successive defeat. Sonny Jackson and Jim Wynn each collected two hits and scored two runs for the Astros.

Rookie Randy Hundley capped a five-run fourth inning against Dodger star Don Drysdale with his first major league grand slam homer as the Cubs routed Los Angeles. Hard-hitting left-hander Dick Ellsworth finally notched his second victory, his first in a month, by scattering eight hits, four by Maury Wills.

The Phillies hammered out 14 hits, including homers by Tony Gonzalez, Richie Allen and Clay Dalrymple, in crushing the Reds. The victory which was credited to starter Chris Short, was the eighth in the last nine games for Philadelphia. Sammy Ellis bombed for four runs in the first inning, suffered his ninth defeat and became the 15th consecutive starting pitcher who failed to finish against the Phils.

Julian Javier homered, tripled and singled twice to pace a 17-hit St. Louis attack off six Pirate hurlers. Javier and Tito Francona each knocked in three runs and Curt Flood, who collected three singles and a double, drove in two. The loss snapped the Buc's six-game winning streak.

CAR OUT OF GEAR

An account of an accident on the IGA parking lot was published yesterday. Mrs. Mary Kathryn Cain said she had left her car parked in front of the store and went into the grocery. When she returned her car had rolled back against the car of A. M. Finley. Mrs. Cain said her small son, Gregory, may have hit the gear shift as they got out of the car and put the car out of gear.

him with bared fangs. Not at all.

Sport is merely afraid of Paul, Flavi Robertson's smallest boy. Now Paul is a fine fellow, he wouldn't hurt a fly. He is a good looking kid with big dark eyes.

For some unknown reason Sport gets scared of Paul every now and then and takes off running, hollering at the top of his lungs.

At any rate, this time Sport comes tearing into the driveway toward the porch. Wife runs to the door to see what is happening. About that time Sport reaches the porch. Does he stop? No. He just keeps coming and goes right on through the bottom glass of the storm door.

This sort of sobers up Sport and there he stands with his head and front quarters surrounded by jagged glass. Sport gingerly backs out of the predicament. Just a little scratch about the middle of her stomach.

As we arrived on the scene the yard was filled with kids on hand to view the wreckage. Sport seemed to enjoy all the attention figuring that the scratch on the stomach was worth it all.

Leonard Wood made our day, the other day.

As you probably know there is nothing more useless around a new house going up than the man who is having it done.

About all he can do is to pick up Pepsi bottles and wonder how the heck they get all those two by fours in a straight line.

The woman of the house stands in a different light however. The carpenters want to know how she wants this done. Painters want to know if this shade is ok. The plumber wants to know whether this should go here or there. The heating man asks her this and the window man that.

All the poor husband can do is just stand there and listen while she gives directions to ten different people. The husband is sort of like the invisible man in Code 10.

Well at any rate to get back to Leonard Wood and how he made our day.

We were standing there forlornly while the wife was giving directions to all these people and we sort of said about half out loud that we wished that we had another electrical outlet in the playroom.

We guess that Leonard just feels sorry for these poor husbands who stand around while a new house is going up. Leonard just picked up his red pencil and goes over and marks on the stud for another outlet. What's more he did not even look at the wife to see if it was all right with her.

We need more men in the construction business like Leonard Wood. Let's rise up men and demand more attention while we are building houses. We have some good ideas if somebody would only listen to us.

Miss Patsy Darlene Hendon Is Married To Stephen J. Tricarico In Home Ceremony

Mrs. Stephen J. Tricarico

In an impressive candlelight ceremony on Tuesday, May 31, at seven o'clock in the evening Miss Patsy Darlene Hendon became the bride of Stephen J. Tricarico.

The marriage was performed in the lovely home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hendon, 815 North Nineteenth Street.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tricarico of Lakewood, New Jersey.

Dr. H. C. Chiles officiated at the double ring ceremony said in the presence of the immediate family and close friends.

The setting for the service was an antique walnut chest belonging to the bride's great-grandmother. A large arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums was on the chest and flanked on each side were walnut seven-branched candelabra holding white bridle candles and accented with four white pom pom chrysanthemums and white satin bows.

Presiding the ceremony Miss Lillian Watson, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Jerry Hendon, sister-in-law of the bride, who sang "Wither Thou Goest" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte following the reading of the vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor-length wedding gown of silk organza fashioned with an empire waistline. The bodice and front of the skirt was covered with lace and seed pearls; and a longer train accented the back of the skirt.

The dress featured a long neck-line and short sleeves. Her elbow-length veil was attached to a headpiece of silk organza roses with seed pearls, and she wore long formal white gloves.

Her bridal bouquet was a crescent arrangement of white butterfly roses and stephanotis accented with pearls and velvet loops.

Miss Carolyn Wilson, maid of honor, and Miss Belinda Winchester, bridesmaid, were attired in floor-length sheath-style dresses of mint green dotted Swiss with puffed sleeves, bateau necklines, and empire waistlines accented with long velvet streamers.

Their headpieces were circular veils of mint green tulle held by a Victorian velvet rose and loops of matching velvet ribbon. Each girl carried a single long stemmed American Beauty rose.

Frank Pappalardo, fraternity brother of the groom, Boston, Mass., served as best man. The groomsmen were Freddie Hendon.

The bride's mother wore a mint green-cocoa brown tweed dress with matching floral hat and other accessories in beige tones. A corsage of an autumn brown gladiolus centered with a beige cymbidium orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Mrs. Tricarico, mother of the groom, was attired in a open blue sheath dress with matching red-tinge. Her accessories were blue and she wore a corsage of a white gladiolus centered with a dusty pink orchid.

The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. L. G. Hendon of Murray, chose to wear a lavender floral dress with dark accessories. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Connie Revello of Brooklyn, New York, wore a navy silk frock with navy accessories. Both grandmothers wore a white gladiolus corsage.

Dear Abby

'Hot Seat' Caused by Cold Shoulder

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I stopped by my husband's place of business just before closing time to get a lift home. When I walked in, he had the guiltiest look on his face, and the back door of his office was wide open. There was a chair drawn up right next to his. I felt the seat, and it was still warm.

We have been married 32 years, and I never worried about his lack of interest in other women because for the last 10 years he has had no interest in me. Now I am beginning to wonder if maybe the reason he had no interest in me was because he was all worn out from his interest in others. I would like your opinion.

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: It could be that the hot seat you're worrying about results from your cold shoulder. Warm up one and watch the other cool off.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young mother of three who has lived in this neighborhood only a few months. When I need something from the store in a hurry, I ask my neighbor's 12-year-old daughter to go to the store for me. Of course I pay her for it. When she returns, she makes a habit of sitting around my house for a few hours. I never especially liked this, but didn't feel like telling her to go home.

Well, this little monster went home and told her mother that she does my housework and baby sits for me while I go across the street to the bar to get drunk! Her mother believed her, too. A neighbor told me this. All I could do was deny it. My husband wants to move away from this neighborhood but I love my house. What's the solution?

DEAR MOTHER: When you see this little "monster" ask her if she wants to tell her mother she lied, or does she want YOU to tell her. Don't let a 12-year-old tale-bearer drive you out of a house you love.

DEAR ABBY: I am faced with a situation which baffles me. I am a grown woman of 40, and a neighbor of mine (also a grown woman) is my problem. Everytime I am in her company she paws and pats me and grabs my hand and tries to kiss it. She is constantly kissing me. I have been told she is "lonely." Well, I've been "lonely," too, but not for another woman. I try to stay away from her unless our husbands are around, but she comes over when I'm alone.

I've told my husband why this neighbor makes me nervous, but he says she's a married woman and I am making a lot out of nothing. I am running out of excuses to keep her away from me. I feel like a prisoner in my own home. My husband is a physician so I can't sign my name. Can you help me?

A PRISONER
DEAR PRISONER: Apparently you have an abnormal neighbor woman, of a very sticky variety. Assuming you are not unconsciously encouraging her, and from your letter I would say you are not, the time has come for you to stiffen your spine and TELL her if she doesn't quit pawing you, she isn't welcome.

Life presents many situations requiring fortitude and if one is to protect himself, and if you feel like a prisoner in your own home, this is definitely one of them.

WHEAT SALE
WASHINGTON (AP) — South Africa is planning to buy more U. S. wheat than ever in 1966 to compensate for a severe setback in domestic production.

The Agriculture Department reported Monday that South Africa's production would be 400,000 tons less than the record 1964-65 crop.

Urges Use Be Made Of Those In "Scrapheap"

WASHINGTON 876 — Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., Wednesday urged enactment of a federal program to remove retired persons from the human "scrapheap" and give them useful work.

"The 'scrapheap dilemma' is not just an academic problem; it is one of the most terrifying of human challenges," Smathers told a Senate subcommittee on aging.

The subcommittee is considering bills by Smathers and Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., to create a national work program for the elderly.

Smathers said the greatest need for such a program lies in the psychological effect of enforced idleness of retired persons. Witnesses at a hearing on the bills also stressed the need of many for supplemental incomes.

"In the studies and hearings of the special committee on aging we have learned that one of the most serious problems of the nation's elderly is their psychological problem," Smathers said.

"For the most tragic aspect of age is the detachment of older persons from the mainstream of life," Smathers proposed creating a "Key-Tical Senior Citizens Corps" with federal and local financing to provide varied types of work for retired persons, most of it designed to help communities in which corps centers are located.

"Some observers have referred to the United States as a work-centered culture," Smathers said. "Because the elderly themselves have spent a lifetime developing lack of respect for new workers, enforced idleness in old age can be devastating to their self respect."
